Morgan Stanley Asia Pacific Analyst Opportunities – Private Equity Group

Dear Students,

Morgan Stanley Asia Pacific Private Equity Group is presently recruiting for 2006 Analyst positions. We invite interested final year students to submit their resumes by Monday, October 24th 2005.

Morgan Stanley Private Equity is responsible for making long-term direct investments in operating companies. Since 1985 Morgan Stanley Private Equity has invested over US$4 billion of equity in approximately 100 companies worldwide. Currently, Morgan Stanley Private Equity has approximately US$3.8 billion of funds under management. These funds consist of amounts entrusted to us by pension funds, institutional investors and governments, as well as Morgan Stanley's own capital and that of its employees. Morgan Stanley Private Equity seeks to add value to investee companies, beyond the investments themselves, by utilizing its global network of relationships and the financial expertise of the Morgan Stanley's other departments including equity research and investment banking.

Job Description

As an Analyst in Private Equity you will work closely with other Private Equity professionals to evaluate and execute investment opportunities and to monitor portfolio companies. This includes performing valuation analyses, building financial models and conducting industry, business and financial due diligence in various countries and across differing sectors. As your skill set and responsibilities expand, you will have opportunities to identify potential investments by undertaking in-depth sector studies, participate in the structuring of complex transactions and eventually develop and evaluate strategic initiatives for portfolio companies. In addition, professionals in Asia may take on greater responsibilities compared to other geographic markets, often working directly with senior investment professionals and interacting extensively with senior management of potential investee companies.

Candidates considering a position in Private Equity will have outstanding academic achievement in an Undergraduate Degree with a major that imparts strong quantitative skills or requires significant numerical-based analysis. Excellent oral and written communication skills, strong interpersonal skills and superior analytical and quantitative skills are essential. Fluency in Mandarin in addition to English is also essential.
